Request Highway Department To Complete 4-Laning Highway 90

Chief topic under discussion at the meeting of the Mississippi Coast Council of Chambers of Commerce, was the possibility of a four-lane highway on Highway 90.

This project, extending from the Louisiana state line to the Alabama state line, would include a new bridge spanning the Biloxi River, connecting Biloxi with Ocean Springs.

The group, comprised of representatives from every coast community, including Moss Point, voted to remind John D. Smith, Commissioner of State Highways, of his promise to complete this project.

A copy of the resolution was forwarded to the Mississippi Coast Highway Improvement Association, as well as to Mr. Smith.

The resolution read in part: "Resolved, That the Mississippi Coast legislators be requested to secure as soon as the Legislature convenes, necessary legislation to assure that the State of Mississippi will complete the four-laning of present Highway 90 from the Louisiana state line to the Alabama state line, including a four-lane Bay of Biloxi bridge. This highway to be retained in the state system."

"That every effort be made to see that a modern four-lane bridge, elevated at the draw span area and including a bascule type draw span be constructed between Ocean Springs and Biloxi."

Letters Show True Character

Readers in this issue is a true account of the character of the Reverend Edward Paul Desmond, well known and well loved priest, who for five years was assistant at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

The account, naturally gives no inkling of the character and personality of the faithful disciple of God. Some of that character is revealed in correspondence in the possession of Dr. Walter Hava, which was entrusted to this writer.

Dr. and Mrs. Hava spoke glowingly and reverently of Father

During the Reverend's interim as chaplain of Mercy Hospital in Vicksburg, a steady correspondence flowed between him and Dr. Hava, through which much valuable philosophy and religious counsel was transferred. One such example is the following letter, which was written in answer to Dr. Hava's question, "Does one of the clergy suffer less, physically, because of his daily communion with God than the ordinary layman?"

"I will answer your proposed question very briefly. No particular class or category of the Genus Homo Sapiens enjoys any superior abilities or physical powers towards the bearing of suffering. The reason: Purely natural reason does not know what to do with the idea of suffering; cannot understand it; can see no sense in it and consequently, loathes it. Genuine supernatural faith supplies the only satisfactory answer to the problem, even if the Almighty did not let us in on the very ultimate reasons. Only in Christ God willed to redeem man. The Son of God is the One who took upon Himself the task of carrying out the Divine Plan. The Son of God chose the method of procedure. In that process or method of procedure He included His union with the human nature in the Incarnation and birth into the world; a certain number of years on earth in the society of earth dwellers; suffering and death with resignation, plus some other things which do not concern us for the moment. Therefore suffering and whatever is covered by that general term is a necessary part of the process or procedure the individual must undergo to be saved. All that makes just as much sense as do the procedures that are considered necessary to become educated, to become a professional man, to become a ball player or anything else. I am sure you did not suddenly hang out a shingle with the inscription on it: Dr. Walter Hava." You went through some years of preparation. That took time; that took some pains too; and not a bene, you accepted as true what they told you about truths of the anatomy and geography of the oral cavity; all the while you enjoyed perfect freedom, but it was not permitted you to throw aside science in so far as it pertains to dentistry and using chemicals that are fine for removing paint, instruments designed to construct Diesel engines and theories that are used in hog-raising. So, in your period of preparation, you were working towards your profession with faith natural of course, but nevertheless faith. Apply these same things to the supernatural and you have supernatural faith."

"Therefore, anyone (child, man, and on down the line) who views and accepts his suffering, whatever it may be, in the light of Christ on His Cross, is able to bear suffering better than the one who does not see suffering through our Suffering Saviour.

"Now, here is where I fade out. Think that out and I believe you will have the answer to your question. Physical strength, profession, is not the guarantee. The grace of God given in faith and prayer is power behind our resignation and willingness to bear suffering in the Christian manner."

A letter dated June 17, 1957, during which Father Desmond was seriously ill, nevertheless proved great courage in answering correspondence of his faithful friend, Dr. Hava.

The letter is as follows:

"My dear friend: Thanks very much for greeting and good wishes I am extremely weak and writing this is a severe effort. I am improving slowly. With best wishes. Sincerely in Christ, Edward P. Desmond"

The letter signed in flourish script bore the effort of a very sick man, who believed himself improving, and who succumbed almost to the day one month later, a religious officer who fulfilled his duties unselfishly and happily.

For the first time in oil industry history, crude oil production passed the seven million barrels daily mark and the total value of crude at the well topped seven billion dollars.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

by
GEORGETTE B. HALL

There's a happy boy in Waveland this week because of a wise and understanding lady in Bay St. Louis, and because the Eagle brought you his story last week.

The Eagle's front page carried the "success" story of young Glenn Bourgeois, telling of his deafness since early childhood. Glenn is a junior this year at the Mississippi School for the Deaf in Jackson and has won many honors for scholarship, behavior and athletic prowess. His home now for his summer vacation. His story had hardly hit the front page last week when Glenn received a call from Mrs. Capitola LaRose, 111 Webb Street.

Mrs. LaRose owns and operates the LaRose Distributing Company, a shellcraft and novelty shop and has employed handicapped people. She presently has had over 18 years of hospital experience in working with handicapped people, and when she learned of Glenn and his impressive school record, offered him a job in her shop. She picks him up in her car each day and brings him home in the evening. This week Glenn accompanied her to New Orleans to get supplies and both enjoyed the trip. Glenn and his parents are very happy and extend thanks to the Eagle for publishing the story and to Mrs. LaRose for being the wonderful lady she is.

Week-end guests of Mrs. F. A. Wood of Sandy Street were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Esterstein of New Orleans, and Mrs. Wood's sisters, Mrs. Alma Wright, and Mrs. Sophia Henning, also of New Orleans.

Miss Hilda Russell spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Russell. Hilda is taking nurses' training at a New Orleans hospital.

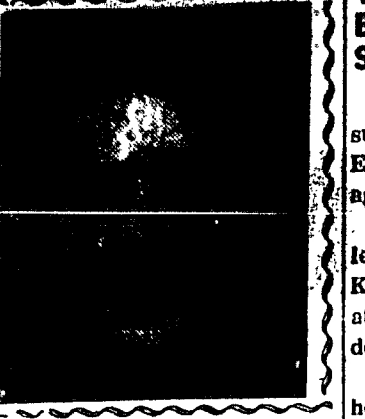

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Scott of New Orleans and daughter, Cynthia, are vacationing with Mr. and Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Scott is the daughter of the Albas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schubert and three children are visiting Mr. Schubert's mother and family and are enjoying their vacation.

Dr. Isadore Dyer and family of New Orleans have rented the Hebert home on Aiken Road for their summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Stewart and children have rented the Perrett home on Hartside Drive where they are relaxing during the summer.

The Heals, families of two doctors from Covington, La., have rented the Dicks home on Sears Avenue and Beach Boulevard for

THOMAS MORGAN EDWARDS DIES SUDDENLY

News was received here of the sudden death of Thomas Morgan Edwards, 34, a Marine barge agent.

Edwards, a native of New Orleans, is a brother-in-law to Q. J. Key, Jr., of Bay St. Louis, who at present resides in San Fernando, California.

The victim was stricken with a heart attack in the lobby of the Hotel Del Lago, Maracaibo, Venezuela, where he had gone on business for the period of a week. He died before aid could be summoned.

The family of Edwards has requested a report from the American Consul in Maracaibo. Edwards was a sailing enthusiast and a member of the Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans, and was well known to local yachtsmen. He was owner of the 35 ft. cutter, "Ibid."

He is the son of J. H. Edwards and the late Cecile Fabacher Edwards. A bachelor, he lived with his father at 747 Canal Street. He was a graduate of Jesuit High School and of Tulane University. During World War II he served as a member of a Navy torpedo squadron in the Philippines. He qualified as a lieutenant junior grade after attending Columbia University in New York under the Navy's ROTC program.

The body was expected to arrive in New Orleans on Wednesday and arrangements have been made with Jacob Schoen and Son, Inc., for interment arrangements are incomplete at this writing.

Friends of Mr. Ben Bourgeois are wishing good luck to him and a speedy recovery. His recent illness has him confined in Veterans Hospital in Biloxi, pending surgery.

Sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mrs. John Garza who passed on suddenly this week. She was buried in Waveland cemetery.

Airman 2c Albert Asher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Asher, is vacationing with his parents and friends. He is stationed with the Air Force in Winston Salem, North Carolina.

The deceased woman's sister returned home just prior to Dr. Whitecloud's arrival, but stated that she was unaware of the fatal shooting.

Police were notified immediately and Pearl River county Deputy Sheriff Estes Moody said that a coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide through a self-inflicted wound in the heart.

Survivors were unable to offer any motive for the shooting.

"The Wayward Bus" To Be At AAG Theatre-Sun. And Mon.

John Steinbeck's novel "The Wayward Bus" which Twentieth Century-Fox has transformed into a stark, sexy drama in Cinemascope, will be the next attraction at the AAG Theatre, opening on Sunday and Monday, July 28-29. In the star roles are Joan Collins, Jayne Mansfield, Dan Dailey and Rick Jason, a personable young actor who achieves his first sister billing. The picture also introduces Dolores Michaels, the pretty blonde from Kansas City, the first graduate of the company's talent school to make her screen debut.

A strange group of people take the ride on the beat-up, broken down bus on which most of the story takes place. Miss Mansfield plays the role of a bubble dancer travelling incognito to fulfill a playdate and Dan Dailey is the brash salesman of cheap novelties, who romances her. Jason is the bus driver, who is so tired of his wife's tantrums that he falls ready prey to the first girl who comes along. Miss Michaels is the girl who woos him in a convenient layoff when the bus breaks down. Larry Keating and Kathryn Givney are her disturbed and disapproving parents.

Miss Collins plays the important role of the hysterical, bibulous wife of the bus driver and other important players in the picture are Betty Lou Keim, as a movie-struck teenager, who is fleeing her job as a counter girl in the roadside cafe; Dee Pollock, as an earnest, girl-struck young man, and Will Wright, a superannuated grouch enroute to claim himself a bride.

"Desk Set" at Hi-Way Theatre Sunday

Spencer Tracy kiddingly says his current role with Katherine Hepburn in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Desk Set," coming to the Hi-Way Drive in Theatre Sun. is a natural sequel to "Edison, the Man," a picture he did back in 1940. "I invented electricity as Edison," explains Tracy, "and in this picture I invent the electronic brain machine, which could never have been invented if Edison hadn't first invented electricity! It's funny," he said. "When Don Ameche invented the telephone in that 'Alexander Gra-

MEMO TO MAINSTREET

Many people think of rural electrification only in terms of the benefits it has brought to the modern dirt farmer-of the changes it has wrought in his way of life. Those people are only half right. Sure, cooperative electrification has as its first goal the improvement of farming and farm living. And, that goal is being achieved. American farmers today are the most efficient and prosperous of any in the world.

But the influence of rural electrification does not stop at the edge of town. It has made itself felt in the small communities, and in the big cities, too. No one has felt this more than you businessmen. There was a time-many of you can remember it-when there was no demand by farmers for electrical equipment and appliances because the farmers had no source of electric power. By bringing low-cost electricity to millions of farms, this cooperative and nearly a thousand others, have helped open a tremendous market for electric farm equipment and electric home appliances.

There was a time, too, when the farm demand for other products was severely limited by the low income of farmers. That has changed, too. Modern farming methods, modern farm machinery, and a gigantic increase in the productive use of electric power on the farm have made farming a paying operation. Farmers can now buy-and do buy-the things they have wanted for years but could not at one time afford. We are proud that our cooperative, by helping our farmer-members to prosper through the use of electricity, has helped the business of this community, and the business of America, to prosper, too.

of flounders, Gordon

Romanoff caught seven one day last week while dragging for them. If you don't know what dragging means it is fishing with a slaughter pole and walking along the bridge dragging the hook on the bottom. The rig is a slaughter pole with the sinker about a foot above the hook in front of the hook. Shrimp or cut bait is generally used. For further information, ask Gordon who is an expert at this kind of fishing.

Fishing has been very good for the past week out of Bayou Caddy Fishing Camp.

Some of the many successful fishermen and women were: William O'Neal of New Orleans and Clermont Harbor who with J. L. Lenfant of Lenfant's Restaurant in New Orleans and his wife Carmel, formerly Miss Maledouse of Clermont Harbor have consistently caught fish while on vacation here. Climaxing their trip with a 43 fish catch, some trout over three pounds.

Buddy Delpit and George Maurer returned to New Orleans after their vacation here. They did quite a bit of fishing while here.

A fisherman is a "Jerk" on one end of the line waiting for a "Jerk" on the other end of the line.

According to Lloyd Ladner, owner of Ladner's Fish Market, Brazilian shrimp are caught mostly at night and are of a darker color than the regular shrimp but when caught in the day time they are almost white in color.

The barbecue steak supper held at the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club last Saturday night, was a "humdinger" according to those who attended. Mr. and Mrs. Carey Spence were host and hostess for the affair. They were greatly helped by V. A. Eberhardt and others. The largest crowd yet attended and were high in their praise for the good time enjoyed.

J. C. Baxter, vacationing here from Texas, and Horace Lauck of Harvey, were another successful twosome fishing out of Bayou Caddy. These two gentlemen boast their catch of 52 speckles, with a total weight of over 120 pounds averaging over two pounds per trout. Certainly glad these two fishermen don't fish commercially, it would really ruin the market price for the commercial fisherman.

About the largest catch of fish in size and number was recorded this week at Bayou Caddy Camp was caught by Louis Gonzales and son Monday morning. This gentleman and his 9 year old son had over 80 large speckled trout and while returning to the camp from the Three Oak area caught a Jack fish weighing over 22 pounds.

The Game and Fish Commission a state agency which needn't worry about talk of budget cuts took in $400,000 more in the year ending June 30 than in the previous year. Director Rex McRaney said the total for the year was $1,105,029.00. The Commission's activities are supported principally by sale of hunting and fishing licenses, which are on the increase. McRaney called a meeting of the 15 game warden supervisors and other staff members to review accomplishments of the past year and the program for 1958. Because the game warden supervisors, those attending included game and fish biologists and managers of public hunting grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Eberhardt and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hansen were playing the 18th hole at the Pass Isles Golf Club Sunday afternoon.

Along with the large trout that are really biting now is the Bayou Caddy area, many wackere and Jack fish are caught and for sport try landing a mackerel. Jack from a speed-kill of skill.

Russell Elliott, manager of Bayou Caddy Fishing Camp, stated that this is the best year for fishing in the last four or five years. The fish are plentiful and everyone is catching their share of the large ones. There is plenty of live bait at Bayou Caddy and he invites all fishermen to enjoy this wonderful fishing season and not a fish story!

Dan Haggerty of New Orleans, on vacation here made a fishing trip aboard the Theresa Mae on Tuesday out of Bayou Caddy. Don't know just how many fish he caught.

NOTICE TO GOLFERS:

V. A. Eberhardt and E. W. Holmes invites all golfers playing the 5th hole at Isles Golf Course to drop in for FREE BEER at the home of Emile Willis, 430 McClung St. Henderson Point between the hours of 9 to 12 noon. The Willis' home is on the East side of the 5th hole. Thanks Emile!

Pat J. Donagan and John Kirsch, on vacation are enjoying some fishing hereabout. They are going whenever the opportunity presents itself. A crab boil was enjoyed by their families due to efforts of these ambitious young men to capture the hard backed rascals.

John G. Garza and Charles O. Cave employees of the V. A. Hospital in Gulfport said they are way behind in their fishing, but hope to catch up soon.

Dan, Jr. and Mike Haggerty young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dan B. Haggerty enjoyed a fishing trip up Jordan River Sunday morning. The young lads caught a few fish and were they proud. They were taken by their granddad and Mr. Bates.

Bob Fitzgibbons, young grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Ryan of this city is quite a sport for his age. He was selected as a member of the All-Star Baseball team of his community and is also a skier of note.

BOILING PEANUTS CONTROL LIFTED

Peanut growers who prefer to boil their peanuts and eat their green would be freed from farm control under a bill passed by the House. The House-passed bill changes the definition of peanuts to exclude the boiling variety from acreage and marketing controls, and from penalties for violating quotas and allotment.

SUGAR MAY RUSH PIGS TO BUTCHER AT FASTER PACE

A discovery that pigs have a sweet tooth may create the biggest market in America for the sugar industry. Sugar-eating pigs gain weight faster than rats, their aren't fed sugared rations, improved and "feed efficient" improved and they are sped to market earlier and retain more weight during shipment. If further experiments bear out what is strongly believed, that a pig's sweet tooth is his Achilles heel, then the pig of tomorrow will be on the butcher's block sooner than his corn-fed predecessors.

During the thirteen year federal highway program, road-building machines will use more than 13 million gallons of petroleum products of all types.

HYBRID SEED USED IN STATE CORN CROPS

Mississippi farmers planted 575 percent of the state's 1957 corn acreage with hybrid seed. It is estimated that 1,513,000 acres of corn was planted for all purposes this year, of which 870,000 acres are planted with hybrid seed. Last year 781,000 acres, or 49 percent of the 1,593,000 acres of corn were planted with hybrid seed. For the United States, the percentage of total acreage planted with hybrid varieties edged upward to 92.5 percent from the 91.1 percent in 1956, and 89.4 percent in 1955. The commercial corn area of the North Central States has been planting nearly all of corn acreage with hybrid varieties for a number of years.

"It isn't necessary. I simply add my income to what I owe."

SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court today heard the case of William J. Brennan, Jr. v. United States. The case arose from the Supreme Court's decision in Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. v. Sawyer, which held that the President has no authority to seize private property without congressional authorization.

Justice Earl Warren, for the majority, said that the President's power is not unlimited. He said that the President's power is at its maximum when he acts in accordance with Congress, and at its minimum when he acts in opposition to Congress. In the middle, he said, the President has some freedom of action, but it is not unlimited.

Justice Hugo L. Black and Justice William O. Douglas, who were the "red-emptors" of the Court in the New Deal days, dissented. They said that the President has the power to seize private property without congressional authorization.

ORDER PINE SEEDLINGS NOW ADVISES LOCAL AREA FORESTER

Area Forester Marion Parker asks that you begin now to place your order for pine seedlings.

The Commission is planting for 80 million seedlings this year.

The period for receiving orders will be from July 1, 1957 to October 15, 1957. No applications will be accepted unless accompanied by check or money order for the correct amount.

The landowner must sign the application and list the location of the property by Section, Township and Range.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission has the following species of tree seedlings available for distribution this year to Mississippi landowners: Shortleaf, loblolly slash and longleaf pines, bald cypress, black locust and small amount of green ash, cherry bark oak and cottonwood.

Each landowner may receive 1,000 seedlings free by paying transportation charge. Land owned jointly by two or more people is eligible for only 1,000 seedlings. Landowners owning property in more than one county are eligible for only 1,000 free seedlings.

The following prices are in effect for the planting season:

Free seedlings, 1,000 per landowner.

Arizona cypress, $6.00 per thousand.

All other species, $4.50 per thousand.

Delivery charge, 35 per thousand.

Where seedlings are to be picked up, no delivery charge is made.

Seedling orders of 50,000 or more may be picked up, at the option of the purchaser, at the nursery.

The person picking up the seedlings must make arrangements in advance of pick-up date, directly with the Commission nurseryman.

Those taking applications for seedlings will be: County Agent, Soil Conservation Service and County Forester.

in check as much as possible.

In other words, we are seeing a continuation of the struggle between the Hamiltonian and the Jeffersonian philosophies of government.

The Jeffersonian philosophy of government, as opposed to that expressed by Jefferson in the words "that government is best that governs least."

Congress has reacted to the recent highly controversial decisions by proposals ranging from such drastic curbs as requiring reconfirmation of the Justices of the Court by the Senate every four years to the appointment of a special subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee to investigate these recent decisions.

especially as they limited power of Congressional investigating committees, weakened the laws against subversives, and made enforcement of criminal laws more difficult. It appears that at least one of the proposals, which would safeguard the files of the F. B. I., will be approved during this session of Congress.

HUGE PINE CONE KILN IS PLANNED

Mississippi Forestry Commission will put into operation this fall a new type kiln designed to speed up the drying of pine cones as part of its program to produce 80 million pine seedlings for reforestation. Under the program, certain land that is soil banked may be put into reforestation and Uncle Sam will pay the farmer rent for 10 years and the farmer keeps the land and the trees.

One of the hardest jobs the Commission has is the collection of pine cones. To ensure a sufficient supply of cones, the Commission buys them by the bushel from anyone who will sell them, including 4-H Clubs, Boy Scout, Future Farmers of America groups, schools, farmers, individuals, anybody.

Lee Soybeans Gain Quick Acceptance As Good Variety

State College, Miss.—The higher yields and superior seed holding qualities of the Lee soybean have caused this new variety to be planted on much of the state's farm land devoted to soybeans.

Approximately 732,000 acres of soybeans were harvested for beans in Mississippi in 1956. The Lee variety has been estimated to account for as much as 75% of this acreage. First seed of Lee was distributed to one grower in each Delta county in 1954 for increase. Practically all seed produced in 1954 and 1955 was saved for planting to permit this rapid expansion in acreage.

At the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville, the Lee variety has a 7-year average yield from May plantings on Sharkey Clay soil of 41.3 bushels per acre—an 11% increase over the Ogden variety which it has replaced. In addition to producing higher seed yields, the superior seed holding qualities of Lee permit saving the crop produced, whereas, with Ogden heavy shattering losses were often experienced. In Coahoma County, also on a Sharkey Clay soil, the Delta Station reports that Lee has a 5-year average yield of 39.6 bushels per acre which is 15% greater than Ogden.

The Dorman variety, which averages approximately 3 weeks earlier in maturity than Lee, has averaged 94% of the yield for Lee when grown on Sharkey Clay soil at Stoneville, and 93% at the Delta Branch Experiment Station.

And Dentists To Military As Others

And dentists, since July 1, 1957, are liable for military service under the Selective Service Law in the same way as other registrants. The special liability for professional groups which was in effect since 1950, when John W. Patton, State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi, said today.

But the authority to draft younger dentists and dentists is retained in the law in the event it is needed, the State Director said.

TRUNK FULL OF NEW CLOTHES NOT ESSENTIAL ON OCEAN TRIP

If your first ocean voyage is coming up this year, don't spoil it for your husband by shopping as madly as a bride for a trousseau. Although there's no weight limit on your baggage, resist the temptation to take a trunk full of new clothes. Dressing for shipboard occasions is not such a complicated ritual as many think. A different evening dress for every night is not essential. For daytime wear, in all cases, informal sports clothes are the thing. Men wear sweaters or sports coats with slacks. And here's a note for husbands: Remind the little woman that "those old rags" everyone has seen will be brand new to the new people you'll be meeting on shipboard.

Use of petroleum-derived methyl parathion added $30 million to Louisiana's 1956 crop income by helping fight destructive boll weevils.

or-Glass Wedding Of Interest

The wedding of two of the most prominent of white camellia blossoms surrounded the cake, while lily-of-the-valley blossoms, tinted pink, completed the motif.

Receiving with the bride were her mother, who chose a cafe-au-lait sheath with matching slippers, complemented by a corsage of green orchids; the groom's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Avery Taylor, wore a frock of two tones of blue with a white orchid corsage, and the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. John G. Glass, whose gown of French grey voile was attractive with a corsage of pink roses.

The bride chose as her traveling costume a flecked cotton frock in dark tones and wore it with a small hat of black satin, complemented with black patent accessories.

Young Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of the Louise S. McGee school in New Orleans and of Duke University in Durham, N. C. At the latter she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority over which she served as president.
